If I have a meal plan question, who do I ask?

For all questions about meal plans you are signing up for and billing, please contact Residential Life at reslife@bryant.edu, 401.232.6140. For questions about menu items and to get in contact with our campus dining hall managers, please contact AVI Fresh. General issues or questions can be directed to Danielle Bair at dbair@AVIFoodsystems.com and through Text the Manager at 401.358.6559.

Maximizing Your Meal Plan

To get the most out of your meal plan, take advantage of the variety offered at Salmanson Dining Hall and Corey E. Levine '80 Dining Commons. Use meal equivalency swipes at retail dining locations and Dining Dollars for snacks and treats at Archway, Bulldog Bytes, AIC Café, and Exchange. Prioritize using your Dining Dollars first, as they expire at the end of spring semester, while Bulldog Bucks roll over. Students on Block Plans should monitor their remaining meals—unused swipes are non-refundable, and the GET Mobile app is a helpful tool for tracking balances. If you have specific dietary needs, you can make an appointment with Cheryl Brock, Bryant's Health and Nutrition Educator. Questions about billing or enrollment should be directed to Residential Life, while AVI Fresh handles dining-related questions, hours of operation, and menu details.

Dining Logistics and Policies

Students with an Unlimited Meal Plan can re-enter dining halls multiple times per period with a swipe, while Block Plan holders will need to swipe again if they leave. Guest meals can be used to treat a friend, provided both parties enter together. Block Plan holders can also swipe in a guest when present. Carryout is available with recyclable Reuzzi containers—download the app to check one out and return it to designated bins. Note that takeout guests cannot eat inside the dining hall. Students can donate unused Block Plan meals through the GET Mobile app to support Bryant's Food Security Program. Meal plan selections are made during housing registration, and upgrades are available within the first seven weekdays of the semester via the MyHousing-Self Service Portal.
